Vice President Hobart Passes to the Other Shore.

HIS DEATH NOT UNEXPECTED

But It Both Shocked and Grieved the Whole of Officialdom.

COMA PRECEDED THE DESTROYER.

Family Remained at the Bedside of the Unconscious Man For Many Hours, Awaiting the Dread Summons—The Funeral Arrangements.

Paterson, N. J., Nov. 21.—Vice President Hobart died at 8:30 Tuesday morning. He had been failing since Monday evening, although the reports given out at the house were that he was holding his own.

At midnight he became unconscious, and at 7 a. m., Tuesday, he had an attack of angina pectoris, from which he never rallied. His death followed at 8:30 o'clock. Mrs. Hobart, Garret Hobart, Jr., Dr. Newton, who is a cousin of Mrs. Hobart, and Miss Alice Waddell, the nurse, were at the patient's bedside constantly from the time he became unconscious.

At 7:30 o'clock the vice president's private secretary, Mr. Evans, called up the White House by telephone and notified President McKinley that Mr. Hobart was dying. At 9 o'clock Mr. Evans communicated again with the president, notifying him of the vice president's death.

The flags on the City hall and other public buildings were half-masted when the news of the vice president's death became known. Flags on many private buildings and dwellings were also hung at half-mast. The bell on the City hall was tolled at intervals.

Although the death of the vice president had been expected at any time, there was still a faint hope up to the last among his personal friends in Paterson that he would survive for some time to come. These persons, who had been neighbors and lifelong friends of the vice president, were deeply affected over his death.

Soon after the news of Mr. Hobart's death was sent over the wires, telegrams of condolence began to arrive at Carroll Hall. Among the first to send words of sympathy and condolence to Mrs. Hobart were President McKinley and Mrs. McKinley.

Mr. Hobart's funeral will take place Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Church of the Redeemer (Presbyterian).

Mr. Hobart's illness first attracted public attention when he went to Long Branch last summer. He spent a portion of the summer there, and during that time had a number of weak spells. It was not admitted then by his physician or family that he was seriously ill. Although he continued in failing health, he was able to drive out, and attended the Long Branch horse show. Near the end of the Long Branch season Mr. Hobart went to his Paterson home, in company with Mrs. Hobart, his son and secretary. About a month ago Mr. Hobart's illness took a decided change for the worse, and shortly after that a notice was issued by Mr. Hobart's family to the public, admitting that the vice president's condition was very critical, and that little hope of his recovery was entertained. The announcement was also made that he certainly would never again appear in public life.

Mr. Hobart's family, his personal and intimate friends and political associates have since been resigned to the inevitable, although there were times in the last days of the vice president's illness that he was brighter and growing stronger.

Story of His Life.

Vice President Garret A. Hobart was born in the year 1844 at Long Branch, N. J. His ancestors on his father's side were English, and on his mother's side Dutch. Thirty-three years ago he was a graduate from Rutgers college, and began teaching school. Three months later he entered upon the study of law in Paterson. Young Hobart is said to have arrived at Paterson with but $1.50 in his pocket, and from this small beginning he made his way unaided to wealth and prominence. In 1879 he was admitted to the bar, and the same year he married the daughter of a prominent attorney, Socrates Tuttle.

Mr. Hobart made his way rapidly at the bar of his native state, and his bent led him early into politics. In 1871 he was made city counsel of Paterson, and in 1872 he was elected to the state assembly, of which body he was chosen speaker in the following year.

At the end of his second year in the assembly he retired to devote himself to the law and to the numerous business interests with which he had become identified. But the demands of his party would not admit of his remaining long in private life, and in 1876 he was elected to the state senate, of which body he was chosen president in 1881. His was recognized as a safe and guiding hand, and from 1880 to 1891 he was at the head of the state Republican organization of New Jersey. From 1884 until 1896 he was a member of the national Republican executive committee.

During all these years his business connections became broader and broader. His keen insight into affairs made his advice and counsel of such value that he was sought after by some of the largest corporations in the country, and at the time of his election as vice president he was a director in no less than 60 different companies.

After his nomination and election to the vice presidency on the ticket headed by William McKinley he went to Washington. The Hobart residence there during the past two years has been the scene of many delightful social affairs. Socially, the vice president and his charming wife divided the honors with the president and Mrs. McKinley. Mr. Hobart left but one child, Garret A. Hobart, Jr., a boy of 14.

TO ATTEND THE FUNERAL.

President McKinley and His Official Family Make Arrangements.

Washington, Nov. 21.—All the flags in Washington are half-masted out of respect to the memory of Vice President Hobart. The announcement of the vice president's death, while not unexpected, came as a distinct shock and cast a deep gloom over the city, where he was loved and honored.

The president was deeply affected by the telegram announcing his colleague's death, and at once dispatched a telegram conveying the sympathy and consolation of himself and Mrs. McKinley to Mrs. Hobart. Meantime the sad intelligence had been bulletined by all the newspaper offices, and the whole city was soon mourning the loss of the vice president.

Secretary of State Hay, upon whom the succession of the presidency now falls, heard the news upon his arrival at the state department, and he immediately repaired to the White House. He was visibly affected when he left the White House. He said no arrangements had yet been made, but that the president and all members of his cabinet would attend the funeral.

Mrs. McKinley was greatly affected. She gave way completely to her grief and sobbed convulsively. Mrs. McKinley has few intimates here, and among her most cherished friends were the vice president and Mrs. Hobart.

The members of the cabinet were made acquainted with the sad news as soon as the president himself was informed, by means of telephone, from the White House. They sent messages of condolence to Mrs. Hobart.

Office Vacant.

Washington, Nov. 21.—By the death of Mr. Hobart, the office of vice president of the United States becomes vacant for the rest of President McKinley's term, as the law provides no succession. A president pro tempore of the senate will be elected by that body when congress assembles, who will hold the office until March, 1901. Senator William P. Frye of Maine is now president pro tempore of the senate. He will call that body to order when it assembles on Dec. 4 and preside until a successor is chosen. That he will succeed himself is generally conceded.

President's Proclamation.

Washington, Nov. 21.—President McKinley has issued a proclamation anent the death of the vice president. After paying graceful tribute to the sterling qualities of the deceased, he directs that on the day of the funeral all the executive offices of the United States be closed, and all stations of the army and navy display the national flag at half-mast. Representatives of the United States in foreign countries are directed to pay appropriate tribute to the illustrious dead for a period of 30 days.

Manilla, Nov. 21.—The United States gunboat Helena arrived at Camaguin during the night of Nov. 12. The crew of the wrecked cruiser Charleston was picked up.

Miles In Arizona.

Tucson, A. T., Nov. 21.—When General Miles arrived here on a special train there were over 5,000 people at the depot to meet him. The address of welcome by Colonel Morgan was responded to by General Miles. The party was escorted to the opera house by the Arizona pioneers and a vast concourse of people, where over 2,000 children received him. The party left for Galveston and New Orleans, thence to Washington.

Two Men Dropped.

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 21.—Ex-Sheriff Pritchard and Jacob Blaylock of Mitchell county attempted to arrest a man named Hunneycutt, a murderer. Hunneycutt shot and killed Blaylock, and Pritchard a moment later killed Hunneycutt. Pritchard, who killed Hunneycutt, is a brother of United States Senator Pritchard.

NATIONAL GRANGE.

Secretary's Annual Report and the Trusts Receive Attention.

Springfield, O., Nov. 21.—The session of the National Grange was principally devoted to the report of the executive committee, through its chairman, J. J. Woodman. He reported the books of the secretary and treasurer examined and found to be correct. There is now more than $50,000 to the credit of the National Grange, $40,000 of which, in round numbers, is invested in real estate, the balance in current funds. There was an increase of $1,000 last year in the funds and 35,000 new members.

Touching trusts, the chairman said every effort should be made to crush them out, for they could not be controlled. "It is treason," he said, "to say they can not, or must not, be crushed out."

A motion to appoint a historian for the National Grange was lost, as it was deemed unnecessary to have one.

Washington, D. C., was selected as the place where the next annual convention of the National Grange will be held.

Dewey to Visit Columbus.

Washington, Nov. 21.—Admiral Dewey volunteered a solemn promise to the delegation of Columbus citizens that called upon him to make the Ohio capital a visit, with his wife, in the early spring, at such a time as the committee may agree upon.

New Incorporations.

Columbus, O., Nov. 21.—Olympia Athletic club of Reading; Plumbers' Brass and Iron Manufacturing company, Cleveland, $25,000; Columbus Iron and Steel company, Columbus, $400,000; Sterling Mutual Aid, Cincinnati.

Bleeding to Death.

Bowling Green, O., Nov. 21.—Frank Adams, a young man of North Baltimore, is slowly bleeding to death from an accidental gunshot wound. The ball entered the left side of the unfortunate young man, near the heart.

Baby Burned.

Akron, O., Nov. 21.—Grace, 2-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Hartman of Akron, was burned to death. Her clothing caught fire while she was standing in front of an open grate.

No Hitch Likely.

London, Nov. 21.—The statement contained in a special dispatch from Washington cabled here, reporting a hitch in the final settlement of the Samoan agreement, is denied here officially. The matters proceeding between the United States and Germany are unimportant details, in no way threatening a successful termination of the agreement.

Shot While Asleep.

Taunton, Mass., Nov. 21.—Joseph F. McMahon was shot and probably fatally wounded while asleep at his home here. John Gallagher, McMahon's brother-in-law, it is alleged, did the shooting. The occupants of the house heard five shots fired. Five bullets entered McMahon's body. Gallagher fled.

New Trial Denied Moore.

New York, Nov. 21.—Recorder Goff handed down an opinion and decision in general sessions court denying a new trial to William A. E. Moore, convicted some months ago of "badgering" Martin Mahon of the New Amsterdam hotel, and sentenced to 19 years in prison.

Wreck of the Charleston.

Manilla, Nov. 21.—A court of inquiry will be appointed to inquire into the loss of the Charleston, and any subsequent action will be dependent upon fixing the responsibility for the disaster, which is dependent upon the court's findings.

Dewey Home Transferred.

Washington, Nov. 21.—Papers were drawn up by Mrs. Mildred Dewey, wife of Admiral Dewey, transferring all right and title in the Dewey home to the admiral's son, George Goodwin Dewey.

Beheaded His Father.

Owenboro, Ky., Nov. 21.—Cicero Barnett, colored, a raving lunatic, cut off his father's head with a hatchet. The murdered man was 76 years of age. Barnett was arrested.

Musician Straus Dead.

San Francisco, Nov. 21.—The death of Edgar Straus, a violoncellist well known in America, Europe and Australia, is reported from Pasadena, Cal.

Craig, Col., Nov. 21.—Last week 3,000 sheep belonging to the Geddes Sheep company were driven from Wyoming to Routte county to the range 40 miles northwest of Craig. Fifty masked men captured the herders and then proceeded to kill the entire flock. The herders were warned not to bring any more sheep into Colorado, and were released.

BRITISH FEAR A RISING

Great Danger of the Colony Dutch Espousing the Cause of Boers.

MANY JOINING THE INVADERS

Reports of "Glorious English Victories" and "Frightful Burgher Losses" Swallowed With Salt In London.

Cape Town, Nov. 21.—Reports from the northern portion of the colony are more reassuring, but there is distinct danger of the Dutch actively espousing the cause of the Boers, who now effectually bar three lines of entry into the Free State. Most of the students of the Burghersdorp Theological seminary joined the invaders after the latter occupied the town. Proclamations issued at Bloemfontein Tuesday, Nov. 14, declare that the whole of Griqualand west, except Kimberley and Mafeking, are annexed to the Boer Free State.

London, Nov. 21.—The latest direct news from Ladysmith, dated Thursday, Nov. 16, and Friday, Nov. 17, strangely conflicts with the reiterated reports of "tremendous battles and great British victories" Wednesday and Thursday. Neither of the messages above referred to, though dispatched on the days following the date of the alleged fights, mention any great engagements or Boer defeats. On the contrary, both distinctly state that beyond a false alarm on Tuesday evening and a little increased shelling Thursday and Friday, causing a little damage, everything was perfectly quiet and the garrison was chafing under its enforced inactivity.

Nevertheless, late special dispatches from Estcourt enlarge on the reported battles, and insist that the Boers received a more terrible lesson Wednesday than in any previous fight.

According to these circumstantial accounts, the Boers determined to attempt to reach the north end of Ladysmith with a large force, but were unable to make headway against the well sustained fire of the British riflemen and Maxims. Later, it is added, a British force worked around the Boer flank, causing the latter to withdraw under a deadly fusillade with heavy losses. Large numbers of dead and wounded are said to have been left on the field, and a number of prisoners were captured. The British losses are reported to have been trivial. The dispatches from Ladysmith reporting that there is an ample supply of ammunition there, have seemingly set at rest a point on which there was much diversity of opinion.

Apparently the British commander at Ladysmith believes General Joubert has gone south, leaving only a force sufficient to prevent the garrison from rallying out, and there is a disposition in some quarters to think General Joubert possibly initiated the story with the object of inducing General White to make a serious attack or relax his precautions, so as to permit the Boers to seize ground vital to the defense of the town.

A report from Durban, however, says there are rumors there that the Boers are preparing to break camp and withdraw from the investment of Ladysmith.

In view of the publicity allowed by the military authorities to be given to the alleged intention of the British to advance via Belmont to relieve Kimberley, it is said that it may be regarded as probable that an advance from DeAar will really be effected, and that the route will not be so well advertised.

Boers Retired.

Durban, Natal, Nov. 21.—Seven hundred Boers from Weenen took up a strong position on the highlands 13 miles south of Estcourt, occupying Turner's farm northeast of the Mool river. Major Thorneycroft, with a detachment of mounted infantry and the Estcourt carbiniers, engaged the Boers, of whom three were killed, including their commandant. The Boers withdrew, taking 200 head of cattle captured at Turner's Farm.

Joined the Boers.

Cape Town, Nov. 21.—The Midland News says that Messrs. Vanderwalt and Guber, members of the Cape assembly, have joined the Boer forces at Colesburg.

William's Movements.

Windsor, England, Nov. 21.—Emperor William of Germany and his suite, accompanied by the Prince of Wales, the Duke of York, the Duke of Connaught and Prince Christian of Schleswig-Holstein, shot in the preserves of Windsor Great park, and lunched at Cranborne tower.

WEATHER FORECAST FOR KENTUCKY.—Showers this afternoon, to-night and probably Thursday; colder in west portions.

SALEM, Ohio, is another manufacturing town that has recently been injured by one of Mark Hanna's "beneficent organizations." The big wire nail mills at that point, which were absorbed by the American Steel and Wire Company, are now being dismantled and the machinery shipped away.

SCORE another one for the trusts. The rolling mills at Hubbard, Ohio, for years its great sustaining industry, are being dismantled by the Republic Iron and Steel Company, and the equipment taken to Youngstown, where most of it will be sent to the scrap pile. It is the story of another prosperous Ohio town absolutely ruined by the trusts, says the Youngstown Vindicator.

W. H. GRIFFITHS, of the Washington, (Pa.) Steel and Tinplate Company, recently testified before the Industrial Commission. He sold out to the American Tinplate Company but is erecting a large independent concern, and proposes to compete with the American Company. He charged that the American Company was a tyrannical and arbitrary trust, whose greatest aim was to destroy competition. They had 272 mills in the United States, and they had closed down 80 of them—possibly more. He considered that the American Company was violating the laws of the land, and would not stop at anything. And there is hardly a trust in existence but what is operating in plain violation of law. That they are "beneficent organizations" is shown by their closing down so many factories and throwing the workmen out of employment.

OVER two hundred Democrats and seventy Republicans in Owen County failed to vote for more than one man on either ticket at the late election, says the News of Owenton. Instead of voting a straight ticket by putting their cross in the square with the rooster or log cabin they put it in the square opposite the first name on either ticket and as a result it only counts for the Governor. On this point the Flemingsburg Times-Democrat suggests that the election law be amended so that the party device shall be placed above instead of within the large square at the head of the ticket. To illustrate have the Democratic ticket arranged this way:

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

For a Straight Ticket

Mark in this Square.

And so with all the other emblems selected. This would certainly be much clearer and less likely to confuse the average voter.

His Life Was Saved.

Mr. J. E. Lilly, a prominent citizen of Hannibal, Mo., lately had a wonderful deliverance from frightful death. In telling of it he says: "I was taken with typhoid fever that ran into pneumonia. My lungs became hardened. I was so weak I couldn't even sit up in bed. Nothing helped me. I expected to soon die of consumption, when I heard of Dr. King's New Discovery. One bottle gave great relief. I continued to use it, and now am well and strong. I can't say too much in its praise." This marvelous medicine is the surest and quickest cure in the world for all throat and lung trouble. Regular sizes 50 cents and $1. Trial bottles free at J. J. Wood & Son's drug store every bottle guaranteed.

River News.

The rise this week will let out another shipment of coal from mouth of Kanawha.

Rising at almost all points above Tuesday. Pittsburgh reported 6.8 feet and Parkersburg 7.4 feet. Prospects are good for an early shipment of coal from Pittsburgh.

After a suspension of three and a half months the Pittsburgh and Cincinnati packets will resume business to-day. The Keystone State will pass up to-night for Pittsburgh. The Queen City will follow Friday.

TIPPED TO WALL STREET.

Secretary Gage's Offer to Buy Bonds, and Millions of Dollars Made by the Speculators.

NEW YORK, November 17.—Washington dispatch to the World is as follows: The presence in Washington of Abner McKinley, brother of the President, just prior to the determination to purchase bonds, as announced by the Secretary of the Treasury, is now attracting more attention than is ordinarily paid to his visits here. On more than one occasion during McKinley's term Abner has come to Washington seeking information, it has been asserted, but whether he got a tip that a proposal was to be made for the purchase of bonds can only be conjectured.

As evidence that an intimation had reached Wall street that "something was doing" in Washington, inquiries came here from New York stock centers asking of Washington agents what was influencing heavy buying in certain quarters, and coupled with the queries it was suggested that from the identity of the buyers it appeared that the Secretary was preparing to buy bonds. Other evidence reached here that the call was anticipated in New York City.

The feature of the bond purchase arrangements, which had been more severely criticised here than anything else, is the fact that knowledge of the contemplated action of the Treasury Department reached a few insiders in Wall street before its official announcement here.

At the Treasury Department it is stoutly denied that any intimation could have gone from there by which stock jobbers could have profited, the explanation being given that the Secretary himself had not determined absolutely to buy until late in the day.

The Secretary called at the White House during the afternoon and subsequently the official statement was given out. It thus appears that others knew of the contemplated action in advance of the final determination of the Secretary himself.

Secretary Gage accepts full responsibility for the proposal to purchase bonds and defends his position in a statement which he made to-day, but it is not readily easy to reconcile the reasons he sets forth with his firm determination on Monday not to do the very thing he did do on Wednesday. He characterized the reports of money stringency on Monday as a "sentimental agitation," and was manifestly set against the purchase of bonds, yet within twenty-four hours he put the United States Treasury behind the stock market. And a few people in Wall street knew in advance that he was going to do so, although the Subtreasury in New York did not.

It is this sudden change of front on the part of the Secretary that makes the belief strong here that it was the act of the Administration, and not that of Secretary Gage individually, although it is the Secretary who defends the action.

If it was the Administration which decided upon the purchase of bonds then there would be a large number within Administration circles who could have anticipated the contemplated proposal to buy.

REV. E. L. POWELL's sermon at the Christian Church last evening on the subject, "Profit and Loss," was an eloquent and powerful plea for men to accept Christ and strive after those things that perish not, but result in peace and happiness both here and hereafter. Earthly riches, honors and pleasures are but fleeting and soon pass upon the possessor. The speaker cited numerous cases, Solomon, Tiberius and others who possessed all that earth could give, but were miserably unhappy, and yet men go on starving their souls, their spiritual bodies, in the mad hunt for earthly honors and riches. Mr. Powell will preach again to-night, and to-morrow at 10:30 a. m. and 7 p. m. Come and hear him. You will enjoy the service and be benefited.

Geo. FETTER, of Louisville, was Monday awarded the contract for the State printing. The contracts amount to about $45,000.

Canton, O., Nov. 21.—Judge William R. Day of the United States court of appeals, the former secretary of state, said: "I am very sorry to hear of the death of Vice President Hobart. It is a great loss to the country. He was a man of such sound judgment that I know his counsel was very highly valued by the president."

No Right to Ugliness.

The woman who is lovely in face, form and temper will always have friends, but one who would be attractive must keep her health. If she is weak, sickly and all run down, she will be nervous and irritable. If she has constipation or kidney trouble, her impure blood will cause pimples, blotches, skin eruptions and a wretched complexion. Electric Bitters is the best medicine in the world to regulate the stomach, liver and kidneys and to purify the blood. It gives strong nerves, bright eyes, smooth, velvety skin, rich complexion. It will make a good-looking, charming woman of a run-down invalid. Only 50c. at J. J. Wood & Son's drug store.

THE Election Commissioners of Louisville meet to-day to finally pass upon the vote of that city. The canvass of the city and Jefferson County as completed by them gave Goebel 15,023, Brown 2,672 and Taylor 18,445. The latter's plurality is 3,422. Six precincts were excluded from the count because of irregularities in returns.

THERE is considerable talk in Greenup over the unexpected action of the Board of Town Trustees in granting license to three saloon keepers at a special session Monday night. Last spring a local option election was held and the drys won by five votes. The wets contested this election before the Election Commissioners, but lost and carried the matter to the Circuit Court. The case has not been heard there yet, and no action was expected by the Retiring Board.

RECENTLY an operator on the Clearfield division of the Pennsylvania railroad sent in a telegram: "Left hand shot off; release me as soon as possible." He was asked if he could take care of trains until relief reached him and replied that he would try. With one hand torn to shreds he kept the other on the key of the instrument. When assistance reached him during the afternoon he fell into a faint. He had bound his arm at the wrist and stopped the flow of blood. The accident resulted from the explosion of an old gun with which he shot at a squirrel that appeared on a tree not far from the tower.

An Important Difference.

To make it apparent to thousands, who think themselves ill, that they are not afflicted with any disease, but that the system simply needs cleansing, is to bring comfort home to their hearts, as a costive condition is easily cured by using Syrup of Figs. Women's Suit!

Hardly a week goes by but we add to our stock of Women's Tailored suits—yet judging by what shoppers tell us we might let a month go by without adding anything and still have the most complete stock in town. We do not buy a great quantity of a kind, only enough to be sure of fitting you, for you like even a jacket suit to be different from other people's. All the following are man-tailored—that is men can press more heavily on the iron, sponge the fabric more evenly and work the suits into better shape. We mention a few:

$10 Suits in Oxford, brown and blue mixture. Double-breasted reefer coat, habit back skirt, elaborately trimmed with stitching in man-tailor fashion.

$15 Suits in navy blue and black Cheviots Serge, double-breasted coat, velvet collar, taffeta lining.

$18 Suits in handsome mixed Cheviots, dip front scalloped coat, velvet collar, habit back skirt, heavy, changeable taffeta lining.

NO ORDER has yet been entered in the Circuit Court for the transfer of Dick Coleman, the murderer, from Covington to the Maysville jail. "Coleman will never get a trial," remarked a gentleman to the BULLETIN this morning. It has been thought that the excitement over the case had somewhat abated, but the general opinion now seems to be that a determined effort will be made to take him and hang him as soon as he is returned here.

THE premium list for the "County Fair," to be held at the Y. M. C. A. building, has been growing until now it is assuming proportions quite beyond the conception of those not in charge. The rooms have been placed in the hands of the various committees and are much as you would find Paris, France, in miniature, (and in proportion), a veritable bee hive of industry and preparation. Booths are being placed, exhibits arranged and the whole chaotic lot brought to a state of perfection which will surprise the patrons and open their eyes. (We hope their purses also.)

The amateur photographic outfit and products at the Y. M. C. A. "County Fair" will be most interesting. The preserves, jelly and bread exhibit is growing, the flower stand will be an interesting feature, the eatables booth most tempting, the mystic maze bewildering and the musical program far above the ordinary. To-morrow we will tell you more completely of what to expect. No admission charged and you will buy just what you want. To-morrow afternoon at 2 o'clock the County Fair opens and runs till Friday night at 10 p. m. Ye citizens are all invited.

R. B. LOVELL,

THE LEADING GROCER

ONCE LIVED IN MAYSVILLE.

Tribute to the Late Mrs. Rose Zingerle, of Madisonville, Ohio.

Brief mention was recently made of the death of Mrs. Rose Zingerle, wife of Mr. Christopher Zingerle, of Madisonville, O. Deceased was a sister of the late Joseph Brenner, of West Front street, this city, and about forty-four years ago was a resident of Maysville and was well and favorably known by many of the older citizens of this city. She was the last of the family, she being the youngest, while Mr. Brenner was the oldest,—his age eighty-one, hers seventy years.

Mrs. Zingerle's oldest son by her last marriage, Mr. Frank J. Zingerle, has for years held the responsible position of Chief Clerk under Mr. C. B. Ryan, Assistant General Passenger Agent of the C. and O. The Madisonville News pays Mrs. Zingerle the following tribute:

"Mrs. Zingerle was a woman highly respected and honored by all who knew her, possessing the true womanly qualities that go to make up a kind, loving and affectionate mother and wife. She was ambitious for her children that they should succeed in life, but did not want them to gain worldly success at the sacrifice of manly and womanly principles and qualities. Her kind, motherly advice and loving affection will be greatly missed by husband and children, and her memory cherished by the loving ones left behind. Her death is the first break in the Zingerle family, and for that reason their loss falls more keenly upon them. May the same spirit of right and duty that guided the mother all through the years of her long, useful and busy life guide the children in their coming years, and may they go down to their last resting place with as honorable a record as did 'mother.'"

"She hath done what she could; 'she has fought a good fight,' and 'the victory is hers.'"

Birth-marks which mark and mar the outside of the body are a grief to every mother whose children may bear them. But for every child who bears a birth-mark on the skin there are many who bear an indelible birth mark on the mind. Nervous mothers have nervous children and many a man and woman owes an irritable and despondent temperament to those days of dread when the mother waited the hour of her maternity. The use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription strengthens the mother for her trial. With strength comes a buoyancy of spirits and quietness of mind, which is one of the happiest gifts a mother can bestow on her offspring. By giving vigor and elasticity to the delicate womanly organs "Favorite Prescription" practically does away with the pain of maternity and makes the baby's advent as natural and as simple as the blossoming of a flower. There is no opium, cocaine or other narcotic contained in "Favorite Prescription."

Democratic Executive Committee Outlines Presidential Plans.

Manilla, Nov. 21.—The whereabouts of General Lawton and Young is becoming as mysterious as Aguinaldo's. The belief is beginning to grow at Manilla that General Lawton has struck the trail of the insurgent "government," and is pursuing the ministers into the Binqua mountains. One vague report by Spanish prisoners is that Aguinaldo and others were nearly surrounded by Americans soon after the insurgent chief left Tarlac, but he escaped through the lines in peasant's clothes.

Philadelphia and Return, $15.50.

On November 14th and 25th the C. and O. will sell round-trip tickets, Maysville to Philadelphia, Pa., at rate of one fare, $15.50. Return limit ten days.

Shootin' STARS

Are one thing and shootin' game is another. The two subjects scarcely bear any relation to one another, unless it be in the disappointment each affords. Weather conditions sometimes interfere in the meteoric event, while the failure to borrow a neighbor's Gun often postpones the other. This is fine weather and the hunting season is on. No need to borrow now, for we are making prices so low this season that every sportsman can afford to own his own Gun. We sold lots of these goods last fall, but are anxious to make this season's sales the greatest in the history of the house and are offering special inducements to that end. In the matter of we carry a full line of everything offered by the trade.

GUNS and Ammunition,

Recently we had something to say on the subject of WIRE FIELD FENCE. The large invoice we purchased before the advance in prices has arrived, and we have some convincing arguments in store for prospective buyers who will come in and talk the matter over with us.
